Overview

OSX, iPAD, iPHONE

To connect to the NHS GG&C patient wireless network, view the available wireless networks on your device in the usual way (platform specific advice is below) and select the PWI-WIFI network.

Once your device has been connected to the wireless network, launch your web browser (Internet Explorer / Mozilla Firefox / Apple Safari ETC.) and you will be presented with the NHS GG&C wifi login page. In order to access the internet a user must present their email address and the weekly passkey.

Figure 1 above shows the login screen a new user will be presented with after they have successfully completed the steps below. The Email Address should be the user’s own email address and the weekly passkey will be automatically emailed to you and other user champions.

Connection instructions: Apple OS X

- Click on ‘AirPort’ in the toolbar and select ‘Turn AirPort On’.
- Select PWI-WIFI from the list of available wireless networks.
- A dialogue box will appear asking whether you would like to join this network in the future. Click yes if you would like to add the network to your trusted network sites to enable automatic connection.
- Launch your web browser to open the WiFi network login page. After successfully providing your email address and the weekly passkey you will be able to browse the web.
